THE RECEIVER ASKS FOR INSTRUCTION. MR. DYKMAN WISHES TO KNOW WHAT SHALL BE DONE WITH THE OFFER OF A DIRECTOR

OF THE COMMERCIAL BANK. suspended Commercial Bank, applied to the Su-preme Court yesterday for instructions as to what shall be done with the offer of George Malcom, one of the directors, to make good a part of his note for $10,000 with funds on deposit in the bank. Mr. Malcom's note, with those of the seven other directors, given four years ago to make good the im-pairment of the bank's capital, came into the receiver's hands when he took charge. It bears date of October 4, 1889. On September 18 Mr. Malcom gave Mr. Dykman a certified check for $8,450 27 on the Nassau Trust Company, his certified check for $1,500 on the Commercial Bank, dated February 16, 1830, and another check for the balance of $49.75 on the Commercial Bank, dated September 18, 1893. He demands in return for these his note for $10,000. The receiver is in doubt about accepting the Commercial Bank checks. The one for $1,500 was made to the order of Berry, Wisner, Lohmann & Co., but Mr. Malcom says it has not left his possession.

It is the custom of the bank to require the payer of a check to indorse it when it is certified, but this was not the case with this check. The receiver asked whether he should be allowed to offset against the indebtedness the balances on deposit to apply to payment by Mr. Malcom, or sae for the balance beyond the certified check on the Nassau Trust Company. The matter was adjourned until to-day. Mr. Dykman also asked permission to employ three of the former clerks of the bank to assist him.

Application will be made to the court on Saturday to have the appointment of the temporary receiver made permanent. It is understood that counsel for the bank will ask for delay in order to perfect the plan for resuming business, to which many of the stockholders and depositors have agreed.

TO BE TRIED FOR RECKLESS DRIVING. William Bischoff, a driver employed by S. Liebman & Sons, brewers, whose truck upset the buggy in which Mayor Boody and Park Commissioner Brower were driving on Friday last, was arraigned yesterday before Justice Watson, in the Ewen Street Police Court, on a charge of reckless driving. Bischoff was arrested on Saturday by Detective Carroll, of the Nineteenth Precinct. At the time of the accident he escaped and was only arrested after much difficulty. He expressed much surprise when told how he had narrowly escaped killing the Mayor and his companion, and seemed to be entirely ignorant of the collision. He was held for trial.

GATHERED ABOUT THE TOWN.

Charles E. Burke, the lawyer who is accused of grand larceny by his client, Arthur L. Tomes, also a lawyer, was held for the action of the Grand Jury by Police Justice Connelly yesterday. The charge against Burke of securing $43 from John E. Mulholland, of No. 33 Bradhurst-ave., New-York, on false representations, was dismissed. Burke is out on ball.

The employes of the Kings County Elevated Railway Company are engaged in forming an organization to strike if the company does not rescind the order reducing their wages 10 per cent on October 1. The engineers and firemen have agreed to stand by the other employes in the agreement not to return to work until the wages of all are restored. The morrow morning, and will probably take similar Travel over the Gowanus Canal in Ninth-st. was interrupted yesterday, as the old wooden bridge was taken down, and a new iron one could not be put in place until the tide turned in the evening Trolley cars had to stop on either side of the bridge, and many people had to walk several blocks to the next bridge.

Republican primary elections will be held in all the election districts of the city and county this evening to elect delegates to ward conventions.

The Rev. Dr. John G. Paton will speak in the Central Presbyterian Church, Tompkins and Willoughby aves., this evening, on his experience and work among the cannibals of the New-Hebrides Islands. This is a thrilling story, eloquently told. This will be the last opportunity of hearing Dr. Paton, as he sails for Europe on Saturday. Admission is free.

The Welsh Ladies' Choir gave a concert last evening in Plymouth Church to a large audience, which expressed much appreciation of their efforts. The choir gave a number of Welsh songs and the works of several English composers last evening. Solos were sung by the Misses Nellie Griffiths, Bessie Evans, Annie Jenkins, May John, Dot Prosser and Emily Francis. The choir will sing at the Hotel St. George this evening.

MOUNT VERNON.

ITALIANS THREATEN RIOT. Word was received at Police Headquarters in Mount Vernon early yesterday morning that the Italians employed at Corcoran Manor Park were again rioting because the money due them was not forthcoming. Chief Foley, with several officers, immediately hurried to the park. When they arrived there they found that the trouble was becoming serious. The Italians were armed with clubs and pistols and threatened to shoot any man who attempted to work until they had been paid. The police at once "nipped the prospective riot in the bud" by arresting Dominico Summatta and Angelo Dimmitta, the ringlenders of the gang. Only by repeated threats to shoot . any one interfered did the officers succeed in getting their prisoners away from the 250 or more angry The two prisoners were arraigned before Justice Appell, charged with inciting to riot, and were committed to await trial. Chief Foley antici-pates more trouble unless the Corcoran Manor people make some kind of a compromise and will keep the police reserves on daty.

The entire effects contained in the municipadepartment of the village of Williamsbridge were sold yesterday for $18 to Henry C. Henderson, attorney for the firm of Hudson, Hyde & Barton, on the execution of a judgment for $3,000 held by that firm against the village on a contract.

WHITE PLAINS.

The will of David B. Morse, of Sing Sing, who died on September 17, was admitted to probate yesterday in the Surrogate Court at White Plains. He leaves an estate of $400,000 in real property and $3,000 in personal effects to his daughter, Isabella M. Helm, who is made sole executor. The will is dated May 15, 1893. Albert H. Hatch and William A. Crowe were the witnesses.

Among the pieces of property belonging to the state of Abraham Collerd, sr., is a vacant factory in Van Winkle-st. It is 20x210 feet. Recently the people living in the neighborhood have carried off all the doors and windows, and there is nothing now left but the brickwork and flooring. Yester day Justice Wilson issued thirty-two warrants for the arrest of persons implicated in the thefts. Four of them were served vesterday. The pris-

After they had been bailed Alderman Lahey, of the lVth District, who became security, refused to may the fees and Justice Wilson said he would sue for the amount in the District Court. Mr. Collerd, who is agent for his father's estate, estimates the damage to the property at $80.

James O'Brien, who was charged with stealing a diamond stud worth $60 from Eugene Breen, of Brooklyn, while at the Guttenburg track last spring, was yesterday acquitted in the Special Sessions Court at Jersey City, because Detective Joseph Harrison, of Heboken, who made the arrest, could not remember that he had seen O'Brien steal the stud and drop it on the floor. The prosecutor, Mr. Winfield, charged that Harrison went before the Grand Jury and swore positively that he had seen O'Brien steal the stud. Senator Daly, who defended the prisoner, objected to naving the secrets of the Grand Jury room revealed, but Prosecutor Winfield retterated his statement. After O'Brien was released, Judge Speth caused Harrison to the bar and held him in $1.00 on a charge of perjury. Assemblyman Johen became his surety.

A short time ago Judge William Walter Phelps offered to allow the Englewood Sewerage Company to establish a plant on the lowland of his Teaneck estate, near the Overpeck Canal, to dispose of solid sewerage matter which he proposed to take and experiment with as a fertilizer. The company sewer mains to a point south of Cedar Lane Road, where the sewage will be emptied into the canal which drains into Overpeck Creek. The canal runs through the grounds of Mr. Phelps, who has a lodge house at the cust end of Celar Lane. Members of the severage company say that it is impossible to continue the awer farther down the creek, but Mr. Phelps says the engineer has inferrned him that the work can be continued two miles south. He has sent word to the members of the company that he considers the sewer a nuivance, and that if they do not about it he will take legal steps to compel them to do so. which drains into Overpeck Creek. THEIRS WAS A BOGUS NATIONAL BANK WESTERN SWINDLERS PAIL IN A DARING EF-

FORT TO HAVE WORTHLESS DRAFTS CASHED. The details of an exceedingly daring attempt to defraud National banks in Kansas City and St. Joseph. Mo., which was frustrated by the foresight of the officers of the Chase National Bank of this city, were made public yesterday. The plan was to get these banks to cash drafts drawn on the Chase National Bank in favor of an alleged newly organized bank in Ferry, Oklahoma Territory. The name of the alleged bank as given on the drafts and letterheads was the Southwestern National Bank.

A few days ago the president of one of the banks in St. Joseph received a draft for $30,000 on the Chase National Bank in favor of the Southwestern bank. The president of this bank communicated with the president of another local bank, who told him that he had received the same kind. It did not take them long to learn that there was no such bank in existence. They immediately communicated with the Controller of the Currency, and flicers are now trying to capture the swindlers. Henry W. Cannon, the president of the Chase National Bank, said yesterday in regard to the

"There was a bold attempt to defraud the banks in St. Joseph and Kansas City by these men, who claimed that they had established a bank in perry. They used a letterhead on which were the names of W. A. Hanna, president; James M. Johnson, vice-president; W. C. Johnson, cashier, Underson, London, Cashier, Under J. London, Cashier, Charles, M. Lohnson, New York, is son, vice-president; W. C. Johnson, Chew-York' is the name of James M. Johnson 'New-York' is written. This letterhead was used to try to open accounts with various Southwestern banks. The accounts with various Southwestern banks. attempt was made to open an account with this bank. On September 15 a letter was written to this bank saying that $50,000 in currency was on the way to us. No currency reached us, and when the bank began to draw drafts on this bank and to negotiate them in the Southwest we promptly sent telegrams to the banks informing them of the situation."

Reports have come from various parts of the Southwest, telling of attempts to get money on fraudulent drafts. If captured, the men will be manufaced by the Federal Government for using the name "National Bank" in their operations.
